

DeVore Technologies

This offer does not apply to classes when an outside organization has rented DeVore's facilities. Common examples will be Oracle Corporation and VMWare. Just call our office or e-mail training@devore.com to inquire.

In most end-user computer software training classes, DeVore provides reference material to our students for use after the class. In order to make the ASTD offer unlimited, the offer does not include a reference manual for use after the class. DeVore offers those manuals at cost to any ASTD member who wishes to purchase a reference manual.

DeVore values ASTD Member's feedback and suggestions on any aspect of our training offerings, and encourages ASTD Members attending class to fill out our on-line class evaluation form.

To view and register for a class:
